

What You Need to Know About BED BUGS

Brought to You by: Rose Pest Solutions

Appearance

- Comparative in Size to an Apple Seed
- Brownish/Reddish
- Oval/Flat
- Elongated When Fed
- 1/4" Long

Bed bugs ARE visible with the human eye.

Signs

- Molted Skin (Translucent Shells)
- Fecal Matter (Black/Brown Spots)

A welt is an allergic reaction to bed bug saliva. Some people are not allergic and will not show signs of bites.

Bed bugs reproduce quickly and can remain dormant for up to a year.

Bites

- Raised, Red
- Itchy Welts
- Straight Lines of Multiple Bites

Know Where Bed Bugs Like to Hide:

Contrary to their name, bed bugs will be found in numerous places of an infested room. The diagram to the right shows a variety of other places bed bugs will commonly frequent. Lacking the ability to fly, crevice dwelling bed bugs will hide anywhere they can drop down or crawl out for a meal.

Bed bugs are hitchhikers. You can take them home from any public seat.

Bed bug infestation requires professional pest services to guarantee elimination.